

RECOMMENDATION

I had an opportunity to work with ArtNovation sp. z o.o. from March 2024 to December 2024. During this period, ArtNovation supported Boryszew S.A. with deep expertise in deep learning, data pipelines, and technical due diligence. They consistently provided clear, in-depth insight and delivered high-quality outcomes on time.

ArtNovation also supported Boryszew S.A. in framing the broader application of AI across the holding. Their engineers participated in on-site visits to manufacturing plants owned by the Group, working directly with local engineering teams to collect and structure requirements. This work informed both a data processing strategy and an AI implementation strategy, ensuring feasibility within operational constraints and alignment with business priorities.

ArtNovation further supported the Boryszew Group in reframing a large grant application, including structuring the narrative, clarifying objectives, and preparing a robust budget. The overall project was estimated at approximately PLN 97.5M, with ArtNovation responsible for planning and validating a budget component estimated at approximately PLN 3.52M. The proposal achieved a high evaluation score; however, the company ultimately decided not to proceed based on an internal strategic and business decision, independent of the application quality.

In addition, ArtNovation designed and developed an internal software solution supporting the end-to-end management of a specific product sold by Boryszew S.A. They worked with business owners to capture and formalise complex trading and operational rules, translated these into clear, executable action items, and delivered a production-grade platform aligned with our processes and decision-making structure. The solution was implemented as a custom trading platform featuring a domain-specific market maker engine, developed through tight feedback loops with domain experts.

ArtNovation demonstrated a responsible, value-first approach, which was particularly important in initiatives without a fully pre-defined scope and objectives. In such cases, they helped structure the work, clarified priorities, and ensured effort remained focused on measurable business value.

As Chief Innovation Officer and a Member of the Management Board of Boryszew S.A., I recommend ArtNovation as a reliable and highly competent partner for large organisations seeking both business and technical expertise. They combine executive-level advisory capability with implementation strength, and they deliver with the rigor required to achieve results in complex environments.
